Axes, Arrows, and Ales

Greetings unto the Populace of the Mighty East Kingdom,
Please come and join the citizens of for our annual Baronial test of skills in the fields of archery, thrown weapons and brewing. Baron David Vázquez de Valençia and Baroness Suzanne Nüeber de Londres are set to determine new Baronial Champions.

Now that the archers and throwers of the realm have had the season to hone their skills, and the recent Pennsic fields have further challenged them, their Excellency's have set to task the current Baronial Champions to find their successors. Lord Eanraig the Bonesetter, current Baronial Archery Champion and Lord Logan Sinclair de Londres, current Baronial Thrown Weapons Champion, have been tasked to create a challenging competition to determine their successors. All attendees may compete for Champion of the day with the best competitor from An Dubhaigeainn to be declared Baronial Champion.

There will be a brewing competition so bring your wares and see whom has the finest libations of the day. Format to be determined by the entrees, but period accuracy and documentation to be highly desirable. Martials will be available for fencing as well as heavy list for those inclined, so please bring your gear...! Day Board to be available throughout the day.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

“I know what a herald is, they’re the ones who like to shout ‘Oyez’ really loud.”

Not necessarily! That’s only one type of herald. There’s voice heralds, book heralds, and silent heralds too. The voice heralds are broken down into Court heralds, those are the ones who shout at you, and Field heralds. They’re the ones who announce which fighters are taking the field and instruct them on which order to salute people. The book heralds are the ones who can help you research and figure out a name and device for yourself. Some specialize in names, and others in armory. I’ll bet most people haven’t even heard of a silent herald. Sign language interpreter! And you don’t have to be hard of hearing to be able to appreciate them. Are you a fighter who has attended outdoor court, but there’s so much else going on around you that you can’t hear who’s getting their award before the battle? Or maybe you’ve been at an event where the acoustics of the room are absolutely horrible and you can’t tell what the tin hats up on stage are saying. If you can learn a few signs, you can watch the silent herald and know what’s going on!

If you would like to try your hand, or voice, at any of these, I would be delighted to help you begin.

Thanks,
Purple

From the Coronet

Unto the populace of An Dubhaigeainn, do your Baron and Baroness send greetings!

This past month the barony hosted two small events (Find Hungry Samurai and Potted Arms), which were great fun, even with the small turnout. Hopefully next year the attendance numbers will be greater.

As we are soon to be on the road to Pennsic, we should also keep our sights on the Baronial Arrows, Axes, and Ales, to be held August 29th, two weeks after we get back, which will see the selection of our new Baronial Archery and Thrown Weapons Champions.

As announced in court at the last event, we are in the process of creating a new Baronial award called the "Award of Perseverance". Although the name is still subject to heraldic approval and passage, it is our intent to recognize the first recipients at St. Andrew's this year. Requirements for consideration are included in this issue of the Viaduct.

The intent of the award is to encourage members to have a more diverse and well-rounded experience in the Society, and will have requirements for participation in each of the three classic "pillars" of the SCA: Martial, Arts & Sciences, and Service. Recipients will need to demonstrate a level of participation in all three areas, but no one specific activity will be required of anyone.

Much like the "Bowmen" badges for archery, we will ask that recipients, after induction, only wear the badge for as long as they maintain the standards for receiving the award.

If anyone has questions about our criteria for this new award, please feel free to approach us and inquire.

The Coronet is continuing to look for individuals who want to learn how to be retainers. The job is not hard, and can be entertaining. It's a great way for a new member of the barony to better understand how the Barony and the SCA works. All interested parties should contact the Baroness.

We look forward to seeing the members of the populace take advantage of the many opportunities to participate and enjoy the activities in the Barony.

David and Suzanne
