Potted Arms and Fancy Faire

The Canton of Hawkes Reache will be holding the annual Fencing Championship of the Barony of An Dubhaigeainn to coincide with the midsummer witch-burning festival of Sankt Hans! While there will be no bonfires, there will be heavy fighting, A&S workshops, a May Pole, a day board, and of course, fencing. The fencing tournament will be run by last year's champion, Lord John Xavier Boullier.

Please contact the autocrat if you have allergies, require a silent herald, or have a special needs child. There will be a Sanctuary of St Dymphna* at this event.

*what is a Sanctuary? It is a "safe zone" for veterans, and others, fighting on the field with PTSD (and any other anxiety disorders). However, a key to this is also privacy, so as Autocrat I ask you be respectful of anyone in there. The space will be marked by a lantern with white lilies in it, and it is both where those who need to retreat from the fray can recharge and where fencers and heavy fighters can pay respects. I do want to stress that bringing your sword to the lantern isn't so much a symbol of praying to St Dymphna, so much as letting any fighter struggling with PTSD know that you're there with them (at a respectful distance).

Herald's Corner

Oh deputy. Deh-pyooooo-tee! (Don't get the reference? Go watch some classic Looney Toons) I need a deputy! Be the Robin to my Batman. The Chewy to my Han. The Watson to my Sherlock!

What does a heraldry deputy do? I need somebody who can fill in for me if I can't make it to court, help do general heralding things at events, and will be the Baronial Herald when my terms are up.

Don't worry, you won't be shoved up on stage with no preparation. I'll be there with you for the next two whole years! Helping you understand how it's all done, and you can put your own spin on things.

And in the immortal words of Daffy Duck: "Deputy. DRINK!" mead is made from honey, and honey is soothing to a hard working throat. Right?

WARNING: must be tolerant of groan worthy word play. Because heralds don't pun, they can't.

Unto the populace of An Dubhaigeainn, do your Baron and Baroness send greetings!

May was a relatively quiet month, but we did kick it off with our visit to the battles of 1066, which was an eventful and well-attended weekend. Thank you to all who joined in the activities from both near and far.

June will bring the annual Canton of Hawks Reach event “Potted Arms and Fancy Faire” to be held June 25 at The Kissam Barn in Huntington – see event announcement for detail.

Outdoor fighter practice is up and running again at the ball fields near the Grange in Sayville. If you are planning/hoping to fight at Pennsic, this is the perfect place to hone your skills.

Planning for Pennsic (July 29th – August 14th) is well under way. If you wish to camp with the Barony you MUST contact Peter of Hawks Reach (Peter Farrell. He can be reached at pfarrell2748@gmail.com. The preregistration deadline is fast approaching (Jun 18th), so get your reg in soon!

We ask that all Baronial champions email the Coronet if they are going to be attending the War, when they will arrive and how they can be contacted on site.

Tentatively the Baronial/Coronet schedule for Pennsic is as follows:

- Opening Ceremonies Sat 8/6 at 6PM – we would ask our champions, the Baronial officers, and any other members of the populace who wish to march with the Barony to muster in the Baronial encampment at 5PM to step off at 5:15PM to arrive to EK Royal by 5:30pm.
- Baronial Ice Cream Social – Sunday 8/7 - starts at 1:30pm.
- Runnymede Dinner Monday 8/8 at 6PM (to be confirmed) the Coronet would like the champions in the Baronial encampment by 5PM to escort the Coronet to this function.
- East Kingdom Court is usually Wednesday 8/10 – this needs to be confirmed.

Any changes to this schedule will be communicated as early and as often as possible during Pennsic, so please check in at the An Dubhaigeainn encampment if you’d like to stay apprised of the latest news.

As always we look forward to see the members of the populace to take advantage of the many opportunities to participate and enjoy the activities in the Barony.

*Yours in Service;
David and Suzanne*
