St. Andrew Goes Beyond the Veil

October 29th, 2016 - October 30th, 2016

Hosted by Barony of An Dubhaigeainn - Middle Island, NY

St. Andrew's travels have brought him to a time of remembrance of things past but not quite gone - things that should not be forgotten. While he stands at the crossroads, St Andrew ponders the past and the shadows, and the things that live in between. Come celebrate this otherworldly time of year with him as his home Barony of An Dubhaigeainn celebrates the final harvest season of the year in style. There will be entertainments galore as we celebrate this special time. For folks who wish to honor the Unseelie Court or any other creatures that "go bump in the night," come dressed as the Fae/Fairy or other creature that goes bump in the night that you would be if you were not born of these mortal modern times. Masks are encouraged!

For folks wishing to trade a ghost story or some seasonal music, there will be a bardic competition during the feast, with the theme being ghost stories and other seasonal tales, either told or sung. For those staying overnight, there will also be a firepit later in the evening around which to share your ghostly encounters with others of like mind.

For the light of foot, there will be dancing by torchlight (weather permitting) to such old SCA dance staples as Hole-in-the-Wall, Miller in the Middle, and Black Nag, among many others. Master Richard the Poor will be our Dance Master for the day. Dance steps will be taught during the day in preparation.

A contest will be held for the "ghostliest" encampment. There will be seasonally-themed activities for the children. We hope to include turnip-painting, mask-making, and a trick-or-treat scavenger hunt.

For the more martial-minded, a tourney will be held to decide our next Baronial Heavy List Champion. All are welcome to participate but there can be only one, Baronial Champion, that is. (There shall be other prizes awarded, as well.) Tourney theme and rules to follow. Watch this site for updates.

Other martial activities, for fencing, archery, and thrown weapons are planned, with all tourneys and competitions being themed for the event. Watch this space for updates on these martial activities, including tourney themes and rules.

A Dayboard and Feast fitting the seasonal theme shall be presented by our very own Duchess Isabella of York. A hearty "Below-the-Salt" Elizabethan feast shall be served to most attending. For those wishing to experience a richer selection of Elizabethan fare with all the "bells and whistles," there shall be special "Above-the-Salt" seating (limited to 24). Please note, for the more vegetarian among us – as this is an Elizabethan-style feast, the menu is meat-heavy! Please plan accordingly. No meal substitutions will be made. A full menu will be forthcoming, as soon as it is finalized. UPDATE: Seating for the Above-the-Salt feast is now sold out. There is still plenty of seating for our equally hearty Below-the-Salt feast.

You asked for it and it's baa-aack! You spoke and we listened - There will be 2 tables'worth (16 seats) of Offboard seating provided inside the hall for this event. For those of you who don't remember, Offboard seating is seating in the hall where you bring your own food but still get to experience the ambiance (and entertainment) that Onboard folks do during the feast. This is also a wonderful way for those of you with dietary restrictions to still get the “feast experience” while still maintaining the constraints of your diet. Offboard tables will be clearly marked. Please indicate your Offboard request when you send in your reservation.

Merchants are welcome!! Please contact the Reservations Coordinator in advance to let us know 1) that you wish to merchant and 2) whether you will be looking to set up your wares indoors or outdoors. For those merchants wishing indoor space - As we will need space for dancing in the hall during the day, we ask that you limit your set-up to 1 table. For those merchants looking to set up their wares outdoors, you may wish to bring some sort of shelter in case of inclement weather. There is no merchant fee.

This is a camping event!* Please bring your tents out for this last camping event of the year and remember to dress for the cool evenings of this season. A fire pit awaits! Please Note: There will be no "camping" in the hall for this event.

*Regarding Camping: In order to best accommodate your camping needs, please pre-reg with your tent info (no. of tents, size of tent/s, and location of your tent door). If you have a household wishing to camp together, please submit your info as a packet, if at all possible. UPDATE: There is now a limited amount of cabin-space available on a first-com/first-served basis for $5.00 per bunk/person. Please indicate if you wish bunk space and the number of bunks you need. Please also include your best contact info in your reservation so that we may contact you should we be unable to accommodate your request. We will post when bunkspace is full up.

Regarding Fire On-Site: No open flames are permitted in the hall. Please note that ground fires are not permitted. For those wishing to cook on-site, there are a few picnic-style BBQs available for use. Also, a large covered commons area near the hall will be available along with picnic tables for those staying overnight but not feasting in the hall.

A list of local/nearby eateries/grocers will be provided at Troll.

Watch this space for more details as they become available.

Heralds Corner

On a beautiful and hot summer day, Baron David Vasquez de Valencia and Baroness Suzanne Neuber de Londres opened their court. They welcomed all and was joyful about all the fun things that were done that day.

Baron Master Don Jean Xavier Boullier was called into court. He described the scenario of the hat auction tourney that was held that day, and announced the winner, Don Owen who was visiting the land. The prize of a mirror box was presented to Lord Vettorio Antonello who had won Owen in the auction. Jean Xavier then described the baronial endurance tournament and declared visiting Don John the winner, with a gift certificate to an armory of his choice as prize. But since he was not eligible to win the champion spot, that went to uber duck Lord Eanraig the Bonesetter. While Eanraig was in court, since he is the current A&S champion, he was presented with a new chain for the A&S champion token to make it more comfortable to wear.

Her Excellency had noted in the hat auction two heralds of particular note. Lord Akos Zekel and Sarah were called into court and presented with tokens for their extremely entertaining descriptions of their fencers.

Lady Genvieve Velleman was called into court to swear fealty as the new Captain of the archers for the barony. Their excellencies wouldn't let her leave before presenting her with a token and inducting her into the Order of Perseverance for her diverse and good work.

Lord Titus Aurellius Magnus was called up and presented with a silver feather for the hard work he is doing organizing and building the college chapter.

Ladies Fiona the Volatile and Hugoline the Delicate were also called up and presented with silver feathers for their continual good work in organizing and running children's activities.

Lady Vasia von Koenigsburg was invited into court to explain the heavy list fighting of the day. Lord Azurr the Bootgiver won overall with a gift certificate to an armory of his choice, and Conrad won for best death, with Vasia offering to make a new weapon for him for a prize.

The three visiting fencers danced their way into court, and thanked their excellencies for a fun day. They were glad to make the journey and enjoyed themselves, but they were running short on daylight and bid their farewells.

Raud Flokison was called into court and he explained he ran a drinking song contest. Sadly, without the drinking part. But Yasuhiro Swordbreaker was named the winner, with a new cup as his prize.

All newcomers were welcomed into court, and given soap ducks as welcome gifts. His excellency asked the people in the audience who has returned to more events since receiving their soap ducks, and a few people raised their hands. He declared "It works!"

Their excellencies then commanded the presence of Michele the Ubiquitous, for the seneschal of the canton to pay their yearly taxes. She presented their excellencies with hawks reaches and dragon eggs. Baroness Suzanne declared she would have to be more specific with how taxes were to be paid, preferably in golden color or tasting of chocolate.

The Baron and Baroness got some exercise and ran to give out bronze duck tokens to Azurr the Bootgiver, Kaalos Dymas, and Lisa of Andubhaigeainn.

With the closing remarks, their excellencies look forward to seeing people at Pennsic and the next event in September. They also asked for help in packing up the site, and that ended the court for the day.

Yours in Service:
Lady Violet Hughes

Unto the populace of An Dubhaigeainn, do your Baron and Baroness send greetings!

Another War has been waged, and again the East was victorious; while we once again stood victorious over our Mid Realm friends, Mother Nature on the other hand kicked everyone's butt and was the clear victor for Pennsic 45. Amongst lots of heat and sweating, we all made it back safe and sound.

We would like to thank all who camped with the Barony this year – over 60 gentles were in the Baronial Encampment. From what we could see the encampment went up and was taken down fairly smoothly. Thank you to The Honorable Lord Peter of Hawkwoods for your diligent management of the encampment this year. We look forward to seeing you at the helm again next year.

His Majesty acknowledged our very own Lady Vasia von Konigsbergon the field with an induction into The Order of Valor. Congratulations.

Various practices, A&S nights and workshops continue in the Barony – check the Viaduct, website, and Facebook page for schedules and updates.

We look forward to our next event, “Arrows, Axes and Ales” to be held on 9/17 at the Estonian Center in Middle Island. There, we will see the selection of our new Archery and Thrown Weapons champions. “St. Andrew Goes Beyond the Veil” is only several weeks later on 10/29 and 10/30, and much is planned including the tournament to find our next Heavy Weapons champion.

As always we look forward to see the members of the populace to take advantage of the many opportunities to participate and enjoy the activities in the Barony.

*Yours in Service;
David and Suzanne*
