A Funny thing happened to St Andrew on the Way to the Forum

St. Andrew is over and we have a new Coronet. Pam Jacques and Titus Aurelius Magnus Congratulations to David Cortijo in becoming a Court Baron and to Maria Dedvukaj and Erik Soto for joining the Order of Laurels. Congratulations to Michelle Sanchez and BARONESS Pam Jacques on their Maunch, Francesco Gaetano Greco d'Edessa on his Silver Crescent and everyone else whose efforts were recognized in court. I would like to recognize many of those who helped make this event happen.

Thanks go to:

Our Exchequer, Helena Lundonie for putting together the spreadsheets and dealing with the reservations and running the troll. Thanks also go to Kimberly Sullivan and Sláine Baen Ronáin for assisting at Troll Down on the field we had a few hours between court filled with Marshal Activities. Travis Rogers, Michael Frost, and Paul R Holm ran a near constant line at Thrown Weapons, Genevieve Velleman, Ellen Jane Hollis and Gary Guarino ran an archery list and a tournament. Eanraig Maceanraig, set up/ torn down the fencing field and ran a few tournaments in between. Titus Aurelius Magnus ran our Heavy Tournament when not being our new Prefect.

Thank you to the Skadls, Colleen Skadl and Kerry Skadl for running children's Activities. Thanks go to Lisa Seckler-Roode for Setting up Royal Rooms and retaining for Her Royal Highness. Suzanne Nueber de Londres, Sláine Baen Ronáin and James Gallagher also lent a hand with the royals. Thank you Eric Rhude for assisting with Camping assignments.

Thank you to Stephen Hoffman for donating the materials and making each of the tokens for the event, they were amazing. Thank you to Baron Stefan Delondres, Baron Sean Delondres and Thorolf Egilsson for supplying our baronies once again with many wonderful beverages in which to partake.

Thank you to the over 50 people who were involved with the feast, Planning, preparing, cooking, serving, and entertaining was an all hands on deck operation. I know that Marcy Rogers has thanked you all and I have to say myself, Thank you- Job Very well done. It was an amazing night and I think those feasting could tell the efforts and love that went into this event.

Thank you to all who helped set up and clean up, and patch burns and cuts, and set up tables, and washed ten dishes, and ran errands and packed trash and the thousand things that have to be done.

Thank you to Their Royal Highnesses, Their Royal Majesties and their staff for attending and helping with out with courts.

Thank you Peter Boullianne, for all that you always do, and for staying too damn long and for trusting me with this event.

Lastly, OMFG Marcy Rogers. What an amazing woman, what an amazing idea, what incredible execution.. I have trouble finding the words to describe what she has done. For six months she has been picking recipes from the Apician manuscript sending them to her group, each creating a version and meeting and creating a menu. She cooked for a week before the event getting everything ready. Everything came out tasty and perfect. I cannot imagine a more perfect feastocrat.

Herald's Corner

Invited into court by their majesties, serenaded by Hugoline the Delicate, Their excellencies began their court with welcoming everybody to the day. They first gave a gift to the King and Queen of the East, a bounty of treats native to our Duck Land.

Their excellencies invited Lord Kaalos Dymas into court, but not being in attendance yet, Suzanne requested their Herald to come before them. Speaking of all the service Lady Violet Hughes has done for the barony from crafting new regalia to getting the Baron to finally register a device, they awarded her the Silver Feather and the Baroness gave a gift of purple trim.

Lord Ronan Fitzrobert was requested to come into court, but since he is the autocrat he was busy running around outside the hall. While he was tracked down their excellencies brought attention to Lord Peter of Hawkwood. For his activities in archery, his woodworking, and his overall service to the barony, he is inducted into the Order of Perseverance.

Ronan was located and escorted before their Excellencies. For having served as seneschal, web minister, helping with setup and breakdown of many events, and getting others to participate in all sorts of activities, he was deemed worthy of the Sylvanus Doke.

Lady Sorcha of Stonegrave was invited before their excellencies. For her work as retainer and “second brain” to her Excellency she was given a gift of a girdle belt, and His Majesty led the room in a chorus of “Ooooh, Ahhhh, Ohhh!” in appreciation of its beauty.

There was mention of a silent auction of stained glass to raise funds for the barony archery fund.

With final emotional words from each of their excellencies of thankfulness to everybody whom they have led, that concluded the last court of Baron David Vasquez de Valancia and Baroness Suzanne Neuber de Londres.

Their new excellencies opened their first court on the beautiful day with inviting those who were coronets prior to them up for recognition. Murdoch and Maigret of Carrigart, Jean Xavier Boullier, and Gianetta Lucia Allegretta, Ateno of Annun Ridge and Lassar Ignen Aeda, David Vasquez de Valencia and Suzanne Neuber de Londres. With words and tokens of thanks, they were sent back to their beers.

Baron Titus, sad that he won't be able to be the Baronial heavy weapons Champion for a while talked about the tourney he held that day. Baroness Sorcha, before Titus was able to name the winners, gave him the duck token of thanks that all past champions receive. Conrad Jarnhand and Muiredach Ua Dálaig were called up as second and third place winners and awarded each a length of rattan. Ozurr the Bootgiver was called as the winner of the tournament and the new Champion and given a prize and regalia. Ozurr resumed his post as guard, and all four were cheered.

Laird Eanraig the Bonesetter was invited into court to talk about his tournaments. The first was a Roman senate tournament, and Master Cain Ramsay was declared the winner and given a prize of a book and a wooden chest and tasked with distributing the loot within. The next tournament was the Lorenzo Quintain memorial tournament to remember the self-proclaimed worst fighter in the kingdom. The winner was Anne de Bastillion and she was given a silver octopus brooch. The “winner” who did the worst was Marion of York who was instructed to run a memorial tournament within the next year, and she was then handed her ass on a silver platter. She received a delighted round of applause when she held high the plastic equine statue and shiny display plate for all to see.

Their excellencies invited before them Lady Fiona the Volatile and Lady Hugoline the Delicate. The ladies explained that the children had a very busy day, making candle holders for feast, and completed a scavenger hunt that included talking to peers! And Royalty! And The Baron! Two children completed the entire list of tasks. Keira of House Three Skulls and Sterling of House Three Skulls (no relation). They both received golden Duck Trophies. All the rest of the children were invited up to present to the new Baron and Baroness regalia of quacking duck bills, much to the delight of their Majesties.

Keira and Dahlia were requested to stay on stage as the rest of the children went back to playing. His excellency showed great appreciation for their efforts at waterbearing at Pennsic and general help at baronial events, and they were awarded Silver Eggs.

Their excellencies called into court Lord Thorolf Egilsen, Stefan de Londres, Lord Magnus de Londres, and Lady Medb O’Donnchada and they were awarded silver Feathers. It was pointed out that it was Medb’s birthday, so Lady Jenna Childslayer led the court in (thankfully only a few rounds of) the birthday dirge.

Master Jean Xavier Boullier was requested before their excellencies, and with a description of his many many roles such as Baron, Seneschal, Chamberlain, and the unofficial role of “he does absolutely everything”, he was bestowed a large silver feather.

Lord Ozurr the Bootgiver, Tycho Mikkleson, and Lord Yisrael ben Baron were called into court and each were given a token and welcomed into the order of the Drake’s Spur.

Their excellencies invited before them Duchessa Isabella of York. Thanking her for her support she was given a token of a stone duck.

Mistress Suzanne Neuber the Londres was invited into court for her support and inspiration, and was also given a token of thanks of an amber duck.

After Lord Bleiddwn Emrys brought the clown god statue Horus to take his place next to His Excellency, thus ended the court of Baron Titus Aurelius Magnus and Baroness Sorcha of Stonegrave.

A Message from the Seneschal

Greetings unto the populace,

As some of you know, that the position of Seneschal is an important and needed office for the Barony. With the position, I also need a deputy. To start, I am looking for someone that can attend most business meetings and local events and is organized. From there, we would work together with understanding the SCA Corporate and East Kingdom laws and Baronial policy. That way, in my absence, my deputy can run a business meeting and represent the seneschal at local events.

If you are interested or just have questions, please feel free to contact me at seneschal@andub.eastkingdom.org or (631) 603-7138 before 9 p.m.

Yours in service,
Jean Xavier
Seneschal, An Dubhaigeainn

A Request from Baroness Mistress Suzanne

Unto the populace, both past and present, of An Dubhaigeainn, do I Mistress Suzanne Nueber de Londres send greetings! I currently am working on the full history of the Barony, and its predecessor shire. My goal is a display for the East Kingdom 50 year event to be held next June.

If you live or have lived in the Suffolk area and played with the Shire, now, Barony, I want your stories, as they will have tell the tale of the Barony.

If you held the position of Baronial champion at any time, can a picture and date for the event be sent to me?

I especially would like photos of people who received their peerage while residing in the Barony taken on the date of said elevation. If you received several different peerages while residing in the Barony, a photo and the date of each elevation would be much appreciated.

If you would like to assist me in the project of collecting our history and telling our story, please contact me at sdelondres@gmail.com

From the Coronet

Unto the populace of An Dubhaigeainn, do your Baron and Baroness send greetings!

There is so much to say and so many to thank that it would be impossible to list everyone here. Hosting any Royal progress is a chance to show the Kingdom the kind of people who live in our Barony, but an investiture is special. An investiture is the only Royal progress where the focus is on the Barony itself, and our Barony used this rare opportunity to truly shine. From the autocrat, exchequer and, kitchen staff, to the servers, marshals, bartenders, and everyone who pushed a broom or moved a table. Every individual came together not only to support us as your new coronet, but to support each other in your arts, your services, your marshal passions and, the joy of simply attending an event.

We would like to congratulate Vettorio Antonello on being welcomed as a companion of the Order of the Laurel, and thank him for reminding us that "What?" is an appropriate response when asked an important question. Lady Onora Ingheann Ui Rauirc was made a companion of the Order of the Mauche. Lady Monkee Makgee and Lady Slaine Bain Ronain were inducted into the order of the Silver Wheel. Geneviève Vellman, Conrad Jarnhand and Luis of House Three Skulls were all given awards of arms. Also, we would like to congratulate and thank Astrid the Shy, for reading her first scroll out into Royal court. All of you and all that you do for the Barony makes us very proud and makes us the Barony we are.

We would also like to recognize Mistress Suzanne Neuber De Londres on receiving a thank you scroll and the Queens order of Courtesy, and Baron David Vasquez De Valencia on Being made a Baron of the Court. Thank you both for guiding the Barony well and giving us both a happy, healthy, and prosperous inheritance. We wish you both joy and luck on the paths ahead.

Now that the investiture is behind us we can begin to look ahead to what is to come next. There are rumbles of war both far and near but those are troubles for another time as we hope to see many of you at Arrows Axes and Ales on October 28th.

*Yours in Service;
Titus and Sorcha*
