Axes, Arrows & Ales at the Feast of Michaelmas

September 15, 2018
10:00 AM - 6:00 PM

On the feast of St. Michael we celebrate our bountiful first year in the rule of Prefect Titus Magnus and Baroness Sorcha Stonegrave. Take this time to sharpen your axes, fix your fleatchings and show your talents with both. We will also be introducing the new world weapon of the Atal-Atal. For the brewers and vintners we will be exploring the traditional Michaelmas ales. There will be no feast but a hearty dayboard with traditional Michaelmas fare will be provided by our own Lord Akos.

Let's Cook Scappi Workshop

June 23, 2018
12:00 PM - 5:00 PM

Our next project is to research a feast for our 2018 St. Andrews. This event will be based in Siena, during the Palio di Siena. Lady Vetra will be feastocrating this event and we will be starting workshops this will be our first of a series of Workshops. We plan to research from The Opera of Bartolomeo Scappi as well as some other resources from the Italian Renaissance. Please make sure to RSVP to ensure enough ingredients are obtained.

Hosted by Marcy Rogers and Lisa Soto
10 Huntingdale Way, Middle Island

Youth Practice & A&S Day

July 8, 2018
11:00 AM - 1:00 PM

We will be hosting a Youth Day 2 hours before regular practice. This will give the children a chance to learn without feeling the pressure of holding everyone else up. Archery and Youth combat will be available. If a thrown weapons marshal arrives, we can do both. There are also plans to have other youth activities for those children who wish to participate in other things. We will have at least three youth marshals in attendance so able to do inside and outside activities simultaneously.

An Dubhaigeainn/Ostgardr Challenge

Unofficial Court Report

Court opened in the Barony of An Dubhaigeainn on the 12th Day of May, A.S. LIII

The Il Khanate Lada and Sudur were invited to sit beside their Excellencies, Prefect Titus Aurelius Magnus and Baroness Sorcha of Stonegrave.

Their Excellencies demanded to see before them Lady Michele the Ubiquitous, who presented them with a documentation booklet of origami, including a duck and a seahorse attached to the front. She also resigned as Seneschal of Hawkes Reach and was awarded a Silver Feather for her hard work in the office. Their Excellencies requested a volunteer to take over the office and Lady Fiona the Volatile volunteered as tribute. She swore fealty and accepted the symbols of her office. Prefect Titus wished "May the odds be ever in your favor", and she responded with "Never tell me the odds."

Lord Saravit of House Three Skulls was called up as he was resigning as canton exchequer. For his work in that office and for his continuing work as web minister he was awarded a silver feather as well. Lord Oswyn Northwode was welcomed into court as the new canton exchequer and also swore fealty.

Their Excellencies invited Merdeth Storm into court. She wished to present a gift of a heraldic banner to Lord Eanraig the Bonesetter, as a thank you for all he has taught and done for her.

The Il Khanate were invited to speak, Il Khan thanked their excellencies for putting on such an activities-packed event, and wished to present gifts. The first would be a duck decoy for Baroness Sorcha in her colors, written on the bottom "If ever there is an uprising, or an absence, place on throne so there is a Duck decoy". For Prefect Titus, as he is known to protect his lands during the day, was gifted a truncheon made by the finest Party City.

Lady Jenna Childslayer was called into court, she wanted to present gifts of kumihimo cords to both their Excellencies and the Il Khanate done in the each branch's colors. Lady Hermina de Pagan was also requested in court and they talked about the bardic competition. The populace choice was determined to be a dead tie. Jenna presented token of thanks of copper rings to Ben and Astrid, as they were strong-armed into entering at the last minute.

Caitlin was called into court as Their Excellencies were impressed with her entry and wished to present a token to her.

Lady Hugoline the Delicate was also called into court. First she presented a boffer mallet that the Il Khanate had commissioned, and then it was noted that she also had an entry into the bardic competition that their Excellencies very much enjoyed.

Their Excellencies requested the presence of Lady Medb who ran the A&S competition. She declared Lord Ibrahim al Rashid the winner for his naalbinding entry. Baroness Sorcha declared Medb herself as the honorable mention.

Lady Genvieve was called into court to talk about the archery competition. The champions shoot ended in a tie, so after a reshoot, the winner was announced as Angel for An Dubhaigeainn. The populace shoot winner was Lord Enaraig the Bonesetter.

Their Excellencies invited Lady Fiona the Volatile and Lady Hugoline the Delicate into court to explain the youth activities. The children had made an aqueduct to run marbles through. As Ostgardr did not have any children participate in this competition, it was clearly An Dubhaigeainn's Lady Keira, Lady Dahlia, and a bit of help from Severus that were the winners.

Their Excellencies called Tommaso Parlapiano into court to talk about the rapier competition. He explained the rules the champions followed and declared Brendan Firebow the winner. There was also a populace melee, but that was more about strengthening the camaraderie of the two groups.

Their Excellencies demanded the presence of Ozurr the Bootgiver. He said that as champion of both An Dubhaigeainn and Ostgardr, as much as everybody wanted him to fight himself, he decided he would take on all offers of fights, and then do a

2-on-2 An Dub vs Ostgardr. The victor of that was declared An Dubhaigeainn in 3 passes.

Lord Magnus de Londres was called into court for running the thrown weapons. Once again, the competition was declared a tie. But after more throwing, An Dubhaigeainn was determined to be the winner.

Their Excellencies called Lady Fiona back into court as winner of the brewing competition with her sack mead.

Lord Mathghamhain Ua Ruadháin was invited into court to talk about the youth combat competition. He was happy to see some new fighters as well as seasoned fighters during the day, and he announced the winner as Alexander for Ostgardr.

Lady Jenna pointed out the champion winner of Bardic was not announced. Their Excellencies apologized for this oversight and announced her as the winner.

Things were getting crazy here. It was an extremely busy day and there was a lot of the court docket, and Their Excellencies suddenly realized they had not announced the winner of the edible scroll competition. Prefect Titus expressed his appreciation to all entrants. Baroness Sorcha announced the winner as Mistress Suzanne de Londres who had entered a period recipe of a ginger cake in the shape of a Queen's Order of Courtesy glove. The populace choice was Il Khatun Lada's cake of the Swedish Princess Cake for the Silver Egg award.

Their Excellencies said that even though today was all about competition, they were happily surprised at the number of activities that would up being a tie. Throwing, archery, bardic, heavy list. And in every other competition there was no right away clear stand out winner. However, since there can be only one, the winner was announced as An Dubhaigeainn. And Lord Ozurr hurried over to to stand with the Ducks.

Baroness Sorcha said that as winners An Dub won the right to have Ozurr march with us during opening ceremonies at Pennsic. Prefect Titus, already putting his gift truncheon to use said that he's heard of reports of Lord Ozurr combining wholly unsuited drinks to make a drink he calls "Brass Monkey". After discussing this disturbing report with Baroness Sorcha, the Il Kahnate and Ozurr's Knight, they have decided that this sin against man, God, and nature deserves a quest. The quest is not only to bartend the Runnymede Dinner at Pennsic, but to also to come up with three good drinks. Emphasis on "good". They must represent An Dubhaigeainn, Ostgardr, and the hosting barony of Bhakhail.

The newcomers were invited into court to receive lavender sachets, the scent of which makes people feel safe and welcome.

Their Excellencies and Il Khanate closed out court by thanking everybody for coming out and participating, for their honor and valor and energy. They all were impressed with the effort everybody put in to make the event run, and hoped all had a great day.

Silent herald: Lady Oda Lally

So Long, And Thanks For All The Fish!

These are my last days as Baronial Herald and I couldn't have had a better time of it. I started off very unsure, but I saw that the heralds were a very happy and eager to help bunch. And the puns! Oh, how they appreciated a good pun. I know I've grown in skills and confidence. I hope I've passed enough knowledge onto Slaine that she can take the ball and run with it. I'm still available to her and anybody else who wants, because once a herald- always a herald. But I really believe she should and will take the office and decorate it with her own style.

My thanks to Mistress Suzanne and Baron David, who when I said I was interested in the role were very encouraging and helpful with guidance. And thanks to Prefect Titus and Baroness Sorcha who trusted me to get my job done so they could concentrate on theirs.

And now I get to sit and drink and make snarky comments in the peanut gallery during court. Bring it on! But remember: heralds don't pun, they cant!

YIS

Violet

East Kingdom 50 Project

From our Historian, Baroness Mistress Suzanne Neuber de Londres:

A little about our Barony:

The Shire of An Dubhaigeainn came into being in August of 1981, and was elevated to Barony November 9,1991. St Andrew's is the Baronial birthday for 2 reason. It is the first event after taking on the name An Dubhaigeainn, and it is the event that the first investiture took place.

Project overview:

The project had been a creation of a visual display of baronial history. The basic guide lines were, you have a 10x10 space with minimal electrical availability. You will need to supply everything in the display. So, I started with a concept, and created a game plan. I submitted a budget at a business meeting... And I was off. The project took 3 months to complete, taking about 175 man hours. I had 11 helpers, giving what time they could; some put in a lot of hours. The display consist of 3 - 7 foot painted canvas walls with a painted floor cloth. Each which have visual elements that represent the barony. There will be several tables the will feature items of event tokens, award tokens with description, champions regalia and a variety of ducks in various forms. I've gathered over 250 pictures from various sources that I will be exhibiting on a digital frame. The display will also feature visual representation of members of the barony in three formats (persona histories, heraldry and leaf on the tree) - each of these items will continue to evolve over the next few years, as I prepare for the baronial 30 year anniversary in 2021.

From the Chronicler

Passing the Torch

It's been 3 ½ years since I was asked to step up and start publishing the Viaduct. I had a very rocky start from formatting issues to a complete unfamiliarity with publisher. However, you the populous were very kind and patient with my positively medieval knowledge of desk top publishing, my preference for plain text and lots of colors.

I would like to thank the following people, without who's assistance and advice I could not have been able to produce a consistent product: Lady Sláine Bain Ronan, Lord Akos, Lady Onora, Lord Ronan Fitz Ronan, Lady Monkey Magee, Katlyn of An Dubaginn, and now most importantly my successor Lily Anlaith Faa (Rebecca Molinari).

Thank you all for your help in the last 3 ½ years. Here's to new tasks to learn, challenges to face, and hills to climb.

With Love and Light:

Lady Hermina De Pagan

The New Viaduct

I am very excited to be stepping in as Chronicler. I know I have big shoes to fill in this position but am eager to serve the Barony and keep all our members up to date on events and information.

I hope you enjoy the new formatting and find it reader friendly. I am always looking for suggestions and ways to improve, please feel free to reach out if you have any ideas.

I would like to start a Member Highlight each month. If you know of someone that you think should receive this spot please contact me with their information.

If you will be hosting an event please let me know so that I can make sure it is featured.

I will also be assisting with the Barony's social media and will be photographing events to post.

I greatly look forward to working with you all.

Yours in Service,

Lily Anlaith Faa

Greetings from the Coronet!

We thank all who participated in the AnDub-Ostgardr Challenge, it was great fun and the Ducks won the day of friendly competition!

Congratulations to Ozurr the Bootgiver for becoming Queens Rattan Champion, how many more can he attain, stay tuned to find out!

We want to thank Lady Violet Hughes for her service as Herald for four years and Hermina de Pagan for her service as Chronicler over 3 years.

Our Historian, Suzanne Neuber de Londres and her team have been working hard on the Barony's display for the East Kingdom 50 Year Event. We hope many of you will attend this special event to commemorate this milestone in our Kingdom history!

Preparations are also underway for Pennsic and our Baronial Encampment. We will be having the Baronial Ice Cream Social on the Sunday afternoon of War Week. We plan to hold Baronial Court and will let you know the time as soon as possible. We hope those attending will represent our Barony on the field, in the classroom, display their Arts & Sciences and other talents as well as march in with us for Opening Ceremonies on Saturday evening.

We have seven Baronial Investitures to attend over the next year and are looking for donations of largess to gift to our new Cousins of House Runnymede as is the custom; a bottle of homemade beverage, an artistic piece with their Baronial Device, anything you can think of would be appreciated, feel free to ask us if you are unsure.

We are looking for Deputies for some of our Officer positions, please feel free to speak to the current officer, the Seneschal or us if you are interested in helping out in this way, it is a great way to learn about a job and how the Barony and Society operates.

We are as ever, Yours in Service to the Dream!

Titus & Sorcha
