Saint Andrew Visits His Bubbie

Barony of An Dubhaigeainn (East Northport, LI) November 26, 2005

WHAT??? Mr. Fancy World traveler has the chance to go here and there, but can't even stop by to visit his poor old Bubbie (grandmother)??! See if she ever makes you Matzoh Balls or roast a chicken for you again Mr. Hoitie toitie fancy pants!

The Barony of An Dubhaigeainn invites you to their annual St Andrews Day event.

During the day there will be the Baronial Heavy Weapons Champions Tourney for the local fighters; I'm sure pick-up fighting will be available for non-local fighters. This year's tournament will be run by our present champion, Lord Vladimir. We will also be holding a Baronial Curia. Merchants, fencing & gentler activities to pass the time for the non-fighters will be available in the hall and outside as weather permits.

The days repasts will feature the good home cooking your Bubbie would have served you; prepared by Laurel Helena [laurihelenaofandub@yahoo.com] 631-924-5495 (9am to midnight). Many dishes are vegetarian friendly. Please contact Laurel if you have questions regarding ingredients, or have special needs.

From the Coronet

Greetings All!

We hope everyone had a safe and relatively uneventful trip home from Pennsic. East Kingdom Court at Pennsic recognized the efforts and talents of some of our folks:

George des Bard - Order of the Troubador - The beautiful scroll was created for him by the hands of Lady Kayleigh McWhyte, who did the calligraphy, and his Lady, Avelyn of Mayburgh, who beaded the illumination and braille.

Uther Shieldbreaker - Court Baron

Wilhelm der Wannensig - Award of Arms - As Wilhelm was a member of the Dark Horde Moritu, Temujin Kahn graciously allowed us to present the scroll to Wilhelm in his own Court in the names of Their Majesties Kelson and Geneviere. We thanked the Great Khan for his warm hospitality.

Lara Kveldulfsdatter - Award of Arms

Sorchea Larasdatter - Tyger's Cub/Award of Arms

Pookah Larasdatter - Tyger's Cub

All those who fought under the East Kingdom banner were recognized as one with the Blue Tyger Legion. The East Kingdom army banner will now carry the device of this award.

Our own Baronial Court held at Pennsic saw the recognition of the children within this year's Baronial encampment - Lord Eanraig and Lady Freydis' children, Henry, Matthew, Kirsten, Victoria, and Brendan; and Targei and Aquilina's daughter, Jennifer. Each was presented with a Baronessa's Token and a cookie for the delight they brought to the camp. We hope to see them again next year. Eanreig and Vivian's 2 older sons, Henry and Matthew, were further recognized as the first recipients of the Barony's children's award, the Silver Egg. Like its Kingdom counterpart, the Tyger's Cub, from which it was inspired, the Silver Egg is presented to those children of the Barony who display "admirable virtue and decorum." It was truly a pleasure to have all these children as part of the Baronial encampment.

On a more martial note, Ulric was finally presented with his Drake's Spur in recognition for his efforts on last year's great Blackstone Raids journey. Saravit of House Three Skulls was likewise awarded the Drake's Spur for his prowess and dedication to the martial arts within the Barony. We thanked all those who fought, fenced and arched under the Baronial banner. It was a great honor for us to see everyone who gave it his or her best this War.

Lastly, Lord Hassan the Turk presented the Barony with the fees for the fighting services of his Household. We are currently in negotiations with Trimaris for the moon. Negotiations with China for certain mining rights may follow.

Despite the heat and the overwhelming odds faced by our army, morale was excellent, with many a good tale to be told. To those folks recognized in Court and those folks whose valor on the fields of war was unsurpassed - Vivat!

On a more somber note, our hearts go out to the survivors of hurricane Katrina. We ask that members of our Barony open their hearts, purses, and wardrobes to those of our kin in Meridies affected by Katrina's devastation. There is immediate need for monetary donations by way of the Red Cross. Later needs are still to be determined. Several websites have been set up to handle the needs of SCA folk living in and around the New Orleans area. Duquesa Isabella is the coordinator for our Kingdom. Please see her missive elsewhere in this newsletter. Please also check with the autocrats of local events to see if they are taking donations for this cause. Our brethren in Meridies will be grateful for your generosity in this time of need.

Looking to the near future, the Barony's Fall Commons, on October 23rd, is coming up soon, followed not long after by St. Andrews. We look forward to seeing friends old and new and hope that all may be able to attend.

In Service,

Gianetta and Jean Xavier

Greetings from Duquesa Isabella of York!

Since my initial announcement last week, I have been continually moved by the show of support from many of the East Kingdom. This is a manifestation of just how powerfully and intimately that each of you have taken on the aid to our sister kingdom of Meridies at this dire time of need. Many of you have recognized that this disaster has not only touched many of our fellow members, but their families and friends and they continue the search for them and to assess the magnitude of their losses. Therefore, with the assistance and ingenuity of Lord Robin and Lady Shannon Gallowglass, we have finally set up a Disaster Relief Website: <http://forums.eastkingdom.org> <<http://forums.eastkingdom.org/>> . This information is also available from the East Kingdom website.

Please go to the website and register your support. These forums are set up to create an arena to discover how you can participate. It is also a venue to come up with new and innovative ideas of support for Meridies. Meridies is in dire need of replacement of many basic needs, i.e., clothing, both mundane and Society. As this website is still under construction, please visit it often for new discussion groups and announcements. We are presently in need of local event point folks who would handle event-driven support, such as a call for housing, clothing, fund drives, etc. This would aid us in our plans for fabric drives, food and basic need drives as well as acting liaisons for inter-kingdom contacts for those profoundly affected by this disaster. You may register and volunteer for those positions at this site. Although in coming months the newsworthiness of this disaster may dwindle, know that the real-life challenges will continue for months and years to come as many come to grips with their loss and displacement. That is the time when they will need us most.

We emphatically request and encourage your participation. Meridies will ever be grateful for your love and support as they so desperately need it. We are a mighty and powerful family and are clear that no disaster, pestilence or tragedy will dampen our resolve to aid many of members at a time when they need it most. We will not desert them.

Thank you for your generosity and selflessness! I assure you Meridies has heard and felt each and every one and is tearfully grateful.

In service to the Society and with gratitude,

Duquesa Isabella of York
East Kingdom Coordinator for Disaster Relief to Meridies
