FROM THE CORONET

reetings Unto the Populace!

s we welcome in the fall season, and look to the time when the weather turns cooler, we ask that members of the populace take the time to consider giving back to the Barony in several forms. As we are a volunteer organization, many of us spend many hours donating our free time to the care and feeding, as it were, of our Barony. Please consider becoming a deputy to one of our hard-working Officers, and, perhaps, even consider one day stepping into the shoes of a Baronial position. It is both a chance to help out a fellow member and, at the same time, aid in the running of the Barony. Another way to help is to consider sharing your knowledge with the populace. Teaching is a valuable aspect of the Society as a whole. Formal or informal classes are a wonderful way to spread what you've learned on a particular aspect of history. Indeed, there is nothing more rewarding than seeing the light spark in a student's eyes as they catch the fire of enthusiasm from your class. Another method of passing on your knowledge can be in the form of writing an article for the Viaduct.

Our newsletter is in need of more substance than merely the bare bones needed to fulfill Kingdom requirements (eg. regnum, calendar, etc.). Even posting a list of links that you've found on various topics is something. (Remember, not everyone may have found the sites you have.) Ours is a Barony of talented folk. Let us share the wealth!

On another note, we remind folks to complete and return their ballots for our Successors, even if you choose to abstain. Those that have only done so - our thanks for showing your care for the Barony.

We hope to see folks at the upcoming fall Commons on the 14th of October. Enjoy the Season!

In Service,

Jean Xavier and Gianetta
