Herald's Corner

After a beautiful day full of activities and relaxation the court of Their Excellencies Prefect Titus Aurelius Magnus and Baroness Sorcha of Stonegrave began.

Their excellencies called before them Lord Peter of Hawkwood, who thanked everybody for their participation in his archery tournament. He was given a small duck token as thanks for his past year of being champion, and he called Angel of An Dubhaigeainn in as the new champion. At 14 years old he is the barony's youngest champion! Angel received the regalia and a scroll done by Mistress Suzanne Neuber de Londres.

Michael Leg Bain was then called upon by Their Excellencies to enter court. He also received a Duck Token of thanks and he named Lord Magnus de Londres as the new Thrown Weapons champion. Magnus however had to leave the site early and thus was unable to take his place with the other champions. So Tommaso the fencing champion was kind enough to hold the spear regalia for the duration of court.

Their Excellencies invited Padraig into court, and two Padraigs stood. One was beckoned up as the brewer of delicious beer, the other was welcomed to relax as the drinker of the delicious beer. Padraig Legionis was declared champion of brewers and received a scroll by Lady Onora Inghean Ui'Rauirc.

Tommaso Parlapiano was invited before Their Excellencies. He was presented with a scroll that was due from a prior and extremely wet Potted Arms event, and confirmed as Fencing Champion.

Their Excellencies demanded the presence of Laird Eanraig the Bonesetter. He also was due a scroll from Potted Arms, acknowledging his long time continual and overlapping positions of champion of various arts that awarded him a pension.

His Excellency David Vasquez de Valencia was invited before Their Excellencies. They explained that in the rush and excitement of everything happening at St. Andrews, they missed giving him a gift. A small basket was handed over and with a look of surprise, then joy, then cunning, he thanked Their Excellencies then ran away with his dark chocolate espresso beans, avoiding the grabbing hands of his friends.

Mistress Suzanne begged a boon of Their Excellencies and asked Lady Monkey Makgee to come into court. Suzanne announced she would take Monkey as a protege and an apprentice and had a contract read out, scroll done by Master Vettorino Antonello.

After they both, Their Excellencies, and all Peers present signed the contract, Mistress Suzanne was asked to talk about the East Kingdom 50 year project she was leading for our Barony.

Since there was nobody attending an event for the first time, Their Excellencies moved on to the last order of business, each gathered up some Bronze Duck tokens and proceeded to hand them out. Including chasing down Henrik of Surtur's Brood to force him to accept the token of appreciation. Others who willingly accepted the tokens were Aislinn of Surtur's Brood (2), David Fishman, Eanraig the Bonesetter, Fiona the Volatile (2), Fredis or Theolmork, Jean Xavier Boullier (2), Jenna Chldslayer, Medb of O'Donnchada, Monkey Makgee (2), Peter of Hawkwood (2), Ronan Fitzrobert, Saravit of House Three Skulls, Stefan Kurth, Slaine Baen Ronain, and Suzanne Neuber de Londres.

A Request from Baroness Mistress Suzanne

Unto the populace, both past and present, of An Dubhaigainn, do I Mistress Suzanne Nueber de Londres send greetings! I currently am working on the full history of the Barony, and its predecessor shire. My goal is a display for the East Kingdom 50 year event to be held next June.

If you live or have lived in the Suffolk area and played with the Shire, now, Barony, I want your stories, as they will have tell the tale of the Barony.

If you held the position of Baronial champion at any time, can a picture and date for the event be sent to me?

I especially would like photos of people who received their peerage while residing in the Barony taken on the date of said elevation. If you received several different peerages while residing in the Barony, a photo and the date of each elevation would be much appreciated.

If you would like to assist me in the project of collecting our history and telling our story, please contact me at sdelondres@gmail.com
