Join the Barony of An Dubhaigeainn at our annual Spring Schola! This year's Schola will be held at Stony Brook University on SUNDAY, April 7, 2024. Our Ducks are being welcomed back by the members of the Science Fiction Forum to share our knowledge and talents with the University community. We invite you to take part in the fun by taking a class to learn a new skill, or participating in one of our Baronial Championships!

Classes will be held throughout the day with a display table showcasing the skills of our populace for our Baronial Arts and Sciences championship, live performances by those who wish to compete for Baronial Bardic champion, and Baronial Court to end the day.

The rules and themes for our A&S competition is thus from Don Laird Eanraig the Bonesetter, current Baronial Champion of A&S:

As your A and S Champ, just a quick shout to give a heads up on the upcoming champions' challenge. The hunt for Christalmo continues... so this year's challenge is WHALING themed. Anything pertaining to whaling- art, science, the hunt, marine lore, use of whale related products in period. Put forth your best research, looking forward to what the Barony has to give! I will be making a commemorative glass for the New Champ, Christalmo themed. Thank you for your indulgence, Eanraig.

The theme for our Bardic Competition from Dame Hugoline the Delicate, current Bardic Champ (and Baroness!):

In keeping with this year's theme "Schola at the University: DuckVinci" and the location at Stony Brook University, this year's challenge for the Bardic Championship is a lesson learned. Any type of performance is welcome, song, story, recitation of a poem, dance, magic trick, all performances are welcome. All performances should be period, or SCA appropriate.

Winners will be chosen by the Coronet who will take into account the response of the populace. Winners must reside with the Barony of an Dubhaigeainn.

Classes! The Baronial website will be updated with class listings and schedules as they are confirmed. Contact the Event Steward Lady Vigdis Eldr, or Co-Event Steward Lady Vetra Trys Kaukoles to volunteer to teach a class: schola@andub.eastkingdom.org

Greetings from Your Coronet!

It's been a long, cold winter here in An Dubhaigeainn, but signs of spring are starting to appear. As February's snow melts away, crocuses, daffodils, and snowdrops poke their heads above the ground. Although ducks do not hibernate, now is the season to shake the snow from our feathers, and prepare for the many upcoming spring events.

We would like to thank several of our members for helping in this area. Landy Andrea Noelle Bathory organized a second indoor fight practice for our barony. This one even featured thrown weapons. Lord Ronan FitzRobert again opened his home to the many archers and throwers of An Dubhaigeainn, running a local practice at his house.

We are also very excited to hear of the arts and sciences activities being pursued in our barony. Congratulations to Fearghus mac Cailin for displaying his research in period games at Crown A&S championships.

V We would like to thank the gentles who have stepped into new officer roles in our barony. Congratulations to our new Chronicler, Osanna Schade, and to our new Minister of Lists, Ronan FitzRobert. We greatly appreciate your service.

We have several local events coming up in the next few months. On April 7th (yes, it is a Sunday) join us at Stony Brook University for Schola at the University: DuckVinci. Be sure to check the event page on our Baronial website for more information on the A&S and Bardic championships that will take place at the Schola. On May 11, "those people" aka House Three Skulls will be celebrating their 40th year in the SCA. Lastly, Hawkes Reache is tentatively planning Potted Arms for June 22, in Huntington. We can't wait to shake out our feathers and get all of our ducks in a row.

Yours in Service
Baroness Fiona the Volatile
